It has been reported that the Office of the President issued orders to Argentine Minister of Foreign Affairs Hipolito Jesus Paz not to appoint individuals to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs who have not previously been connected with either the Argentine Foreign Office or Foreign Service. Evidently President Peron is dissatisfied with the present Foreign Service personnel and administration of certain diplomatic missions abroad. All new appointees are required to pass a strict security investigation supervised by the Oficina de Control del Estado, top security and intelligence agency of the Argentine government.
